Foreword

S. M. J. C. — another year with you has gone.

The Whispering Pines Staff has tried to capture some small event on your campus that has a special place in everyone's heart.

To do The Whispering Pines justice took the co-operation and hard work of many. Among these are Ann, Jim, Oliver, Dale, Ben-nie Lee, and the other members of my staff.

In years to come, we hope that each student can take this annual, musty with age, and turn its leaves to a certain page and say, "How well do I remember this day!—Dear Southwest, I'll never forget you, your ideals, or your school spirit."

Dedication

The atmosphere on the Southwest campus this year favorably influenced everyone. School spirit prevailed; it was apparent in all phases of school life. School spirit means all-out effort, both on the athletic field and the class room; school spirit means co-operation between faculty and students; school spirit means friendliness, with a cheery hello and a kind deed; school spirit means pride in our work and our school. In earnest hope it may continue to thrive on our campus, we of the annual staff dedicate the 1963 WHISPERING PINES to SCHOOL SPIRIT.

We Search For Guidance . . .

X

We search for truth from encounter. We pursue the ideas of others. We assimilate ideas of our own. With the dedicated guidance of the administration and faculty and the helpful assistance of the staff, we are armed with the essentials to prepare for a life's work.

OFFICE OF PRESIDENT

The Sophomore Class of 1963
Southwest Mississippi Junior College
Summit, Mississippi

Dear Friends:

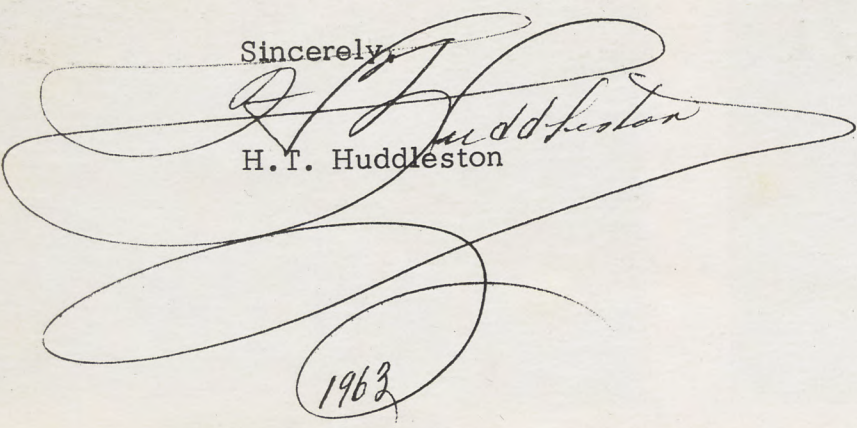

God grant that the germ of Ambition which He has given you to be used for a great future will impel you to achieve, develop, and attain.

We are thankful that you are a part of Southwest and appreciate the contributions you have made toward the progress of this institution.

May your aspirations be filled with Industry. Without Industry, Ambition can only lead to disquieted dreaming.

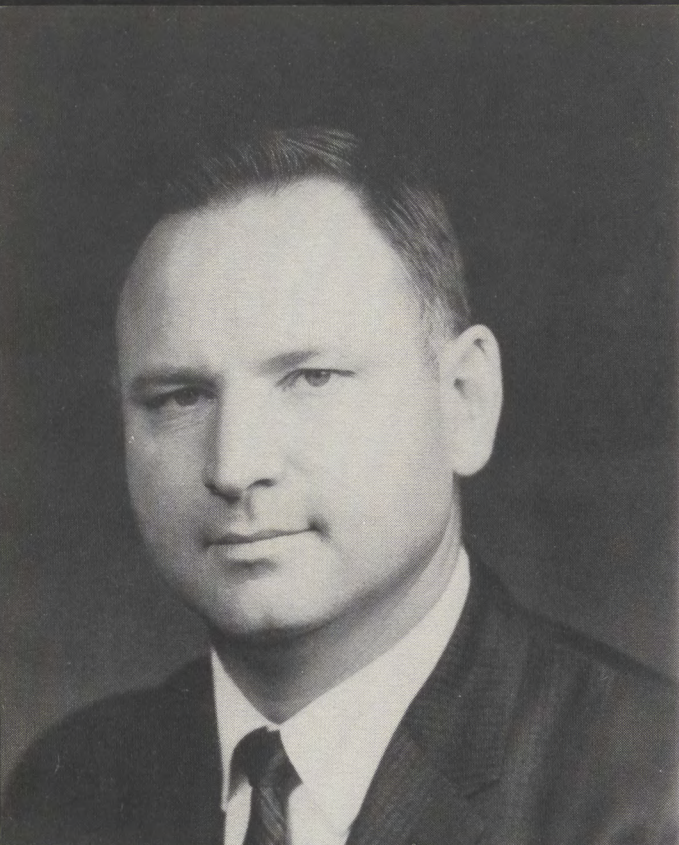

Here at Southwest, the Faculty and Staff stand ready to assist you in all of your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

H.T. Huddleston

We Arrive . . .

We arrive at Southwest. We are fresh from high school, fresh in college. We begin as Freshmen, and we grow into Sophomores.

We are alone. For the first time we are thinking individually. We are encouraged to react individually. We are assuming responsibility individually. We are becoming ourselves.

Two years we spend here—working, studying, learning—mostly happy, sometimes sad. Two years of our lives dedicated to education but holding many other precious accomplishments. Two years of our lives, hard earned, but well spent. Every minute event begun in the formative years has become the soul and substance of our college and of each student.

It couldn't be that bad, kids.

Yes, Mrs. Dunaway, I'll clean it up immediately.

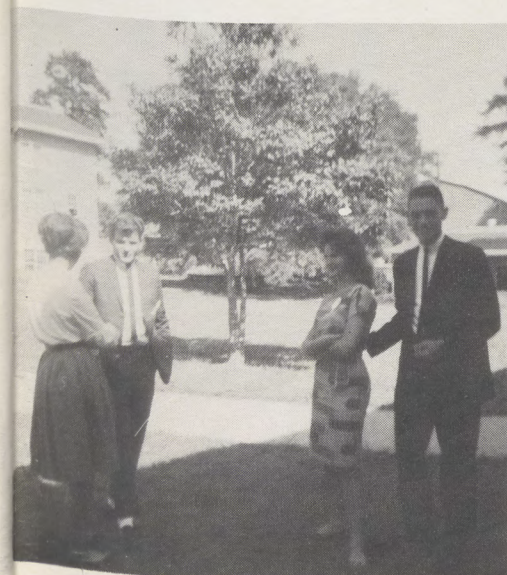

Wake up Jimmy. They are taking our picture.

House cleaning is for the birds, or should I say for your roomie.

Hoss, I like it.

What's the big occasion?

Hungry?

Organizations

We become a part . . .

We become absorbed in one pace and structure of a group of individuals we come to realize our environment. We emerge from ourselves.

Cooperation, progress, and new horizons are the key features of Southwest's campus organizations. Cooperation among the groups is evident everywhere. Progress has been the primary goal as each organization has grown in depth and scope. New horizons are still carrying these groups forward as they seek higher and better achievements for their good and for the good of Southwest. Look ahead and be rightfully proud.

Athletics

We Become Aware . . .

Athletics of every type help every student become aware of his real role in college life. Athletics teach us to make friends—they are fun for players and spectators—they teach new skills—they emphasize teamwork and sportsmanship—they help develop strong and healthy bodies—they present a challenge to band members and cheerleaders to keep school spirit high.

Players become aware that only when they think together and work together as a team can they achieve success. If their efforts are met with defeat, acceptance of the challenge of winning the next time is what makes a good athlete, no matter what the outcome of the game.

The general student body learns to become aware of the appropriate and healthy attitude toward competition in athletic events. This awareness will become a carry-out into every day's campus activities.

Hall of Fame

We Achieve . . .

We achieve ability to compete with effort, ideas, and people. We arrive at an appraisal of goals and their expression in action. We learn to channel ourselves. Herein we honor those students whose superior qualities have merited recognition.

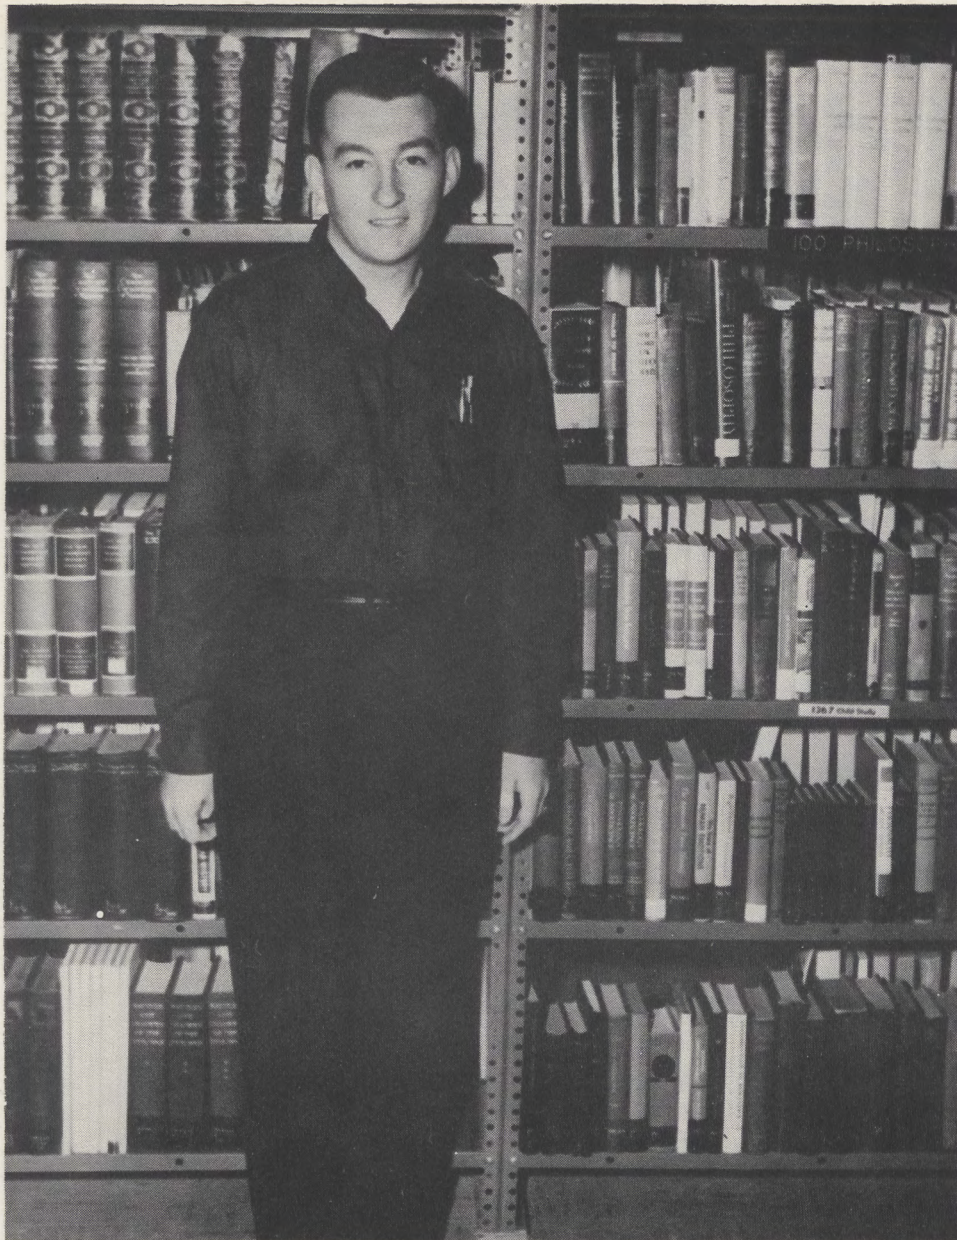

Jean McMorris

A truly deserving member in this year's Hall of Fame is Jean McMorris. Being on the honor roll during both years at Southwest Jean has still found time for many outside activities.

During Jean's Freshman year at Southwest, she was a member of the B. S. U. choir, the PINE BURR staff, and head cheerleader. In her sophomore year, Jean has been head cheerleader, editor of the PINE BURR, a member of the Student Council, an active member of the Westminster Fellowship; due to her activities as cheerleader for two years, Jean was selected in the Who's Who as the girl having the most school spirit.

Both years, Jean has been on a half-scholarship working as Mr. Huddleston's secretary. An English major, Jean plans to continue her education at the University of Southern Mississippi, and teach in the state's high schools.

James O'Brien

Southwest's student librarian, James, has achieved the Hall of Fame very deservedly. James has found time in his busy schedule for the P.A.Y. and for the Vice-Presidency of the Student Government.

Being a day student and a work scholarship student, James has proved his intellect by being an Honor Roll student during both years at Southwest.

James's major is history; his minor is library science. He plans to transfer to L.S.U. and pursue a teaching career upon his graduation.

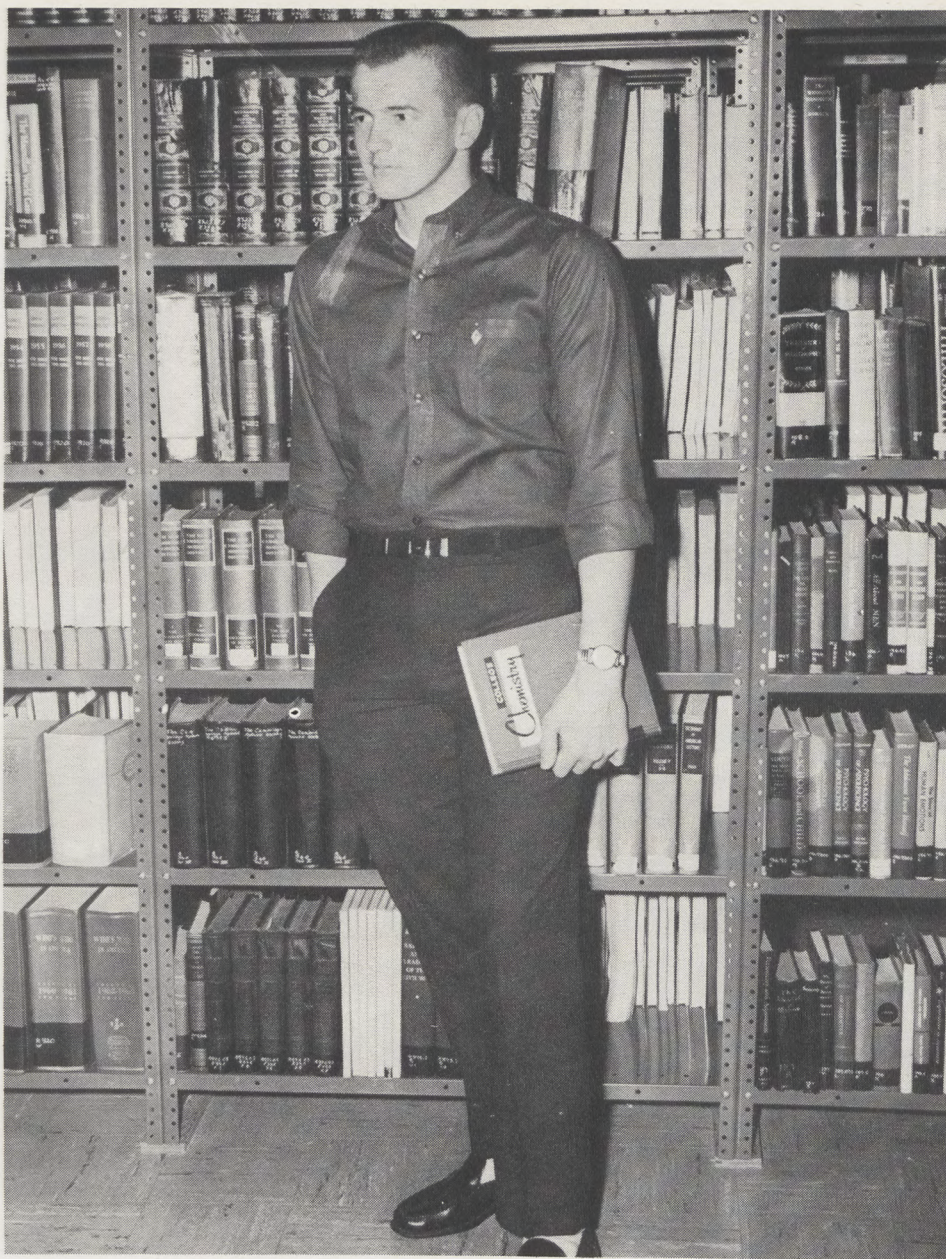

Cecile Reeves

Musical, friendly, and intelligent, Cecile Reeves certainly deserves a place in the Hall of Fame. Her popularity is due in a large degree to her activities on the campus. During her Freshman year, Cecile was a member of the band, secretary and accompanist for the chorus, B.S.U. choir pianist, and Religious Emphasis Week pianist.

In her sophomore year, Cecile was again a member of the band, librarian and accompanist for the chorus, B.S.U. music chairman, Choir pianist, WRA secretary, Dormettes secretary, and a member of Student Government.

Cecile, constantly on honor roll, is a music and Religious Education major and plans to continue her education at Delta State College. Whatever Cecile attempts, her personality and intelligence will make it a success.

Ted McCulley

Who deserves a place in the Hall of Fame more than the President of the Student Government, Ted McCulley?

Ted has kept his grades high and has been active in outside activities during his stay at SMJC. He has served as 4-H President, Student Government President, Wesley Foundation President, and a member of Sigma Mu Delta. Ted was also a member of the Homecoming Court both years at Southwest.

Ted's major is history, and upon transferring, plans to attend Millsaps College, teach for a few years, and go to Emory University to study Theology.

Features

We Become Aware . . .

We become aware of Southwest's spirit throughout every phase of college life. We recognize the Southwest way, not only as we work and study together, but also in the social functions of the college at all times of the year we enjoy the features of Southwest.

Special Events

We Are Alone . . .

We are alone. For the first time we are thinking individually. We are encouraged to react individually. We are assuming responsibility individually. We are becoming ourselves.

Two years we spend here—working, studying, learning—mostly happy, sometimes sad. Two years of our life, dedicated to education but holding many other precious accomplishments. Two years of our life, hard earned but well spent. Every minute event begun in the formative years has become the soul and substance of our college and of each student.

Our beautiful and gracious majorettes.

Our Freshmen, at their best.

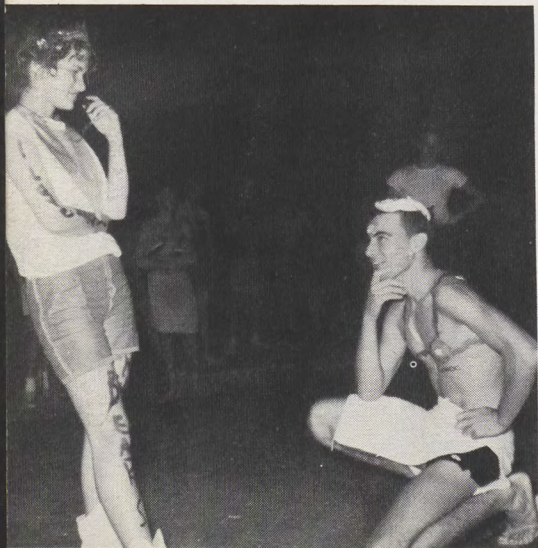

I wanna tell ya'll a tale

What can you offer me, Mr. Smith.

"Hi"

The superior sophomores gloat over their lowly subjects.

Shake, Rattle, and Roll!!!

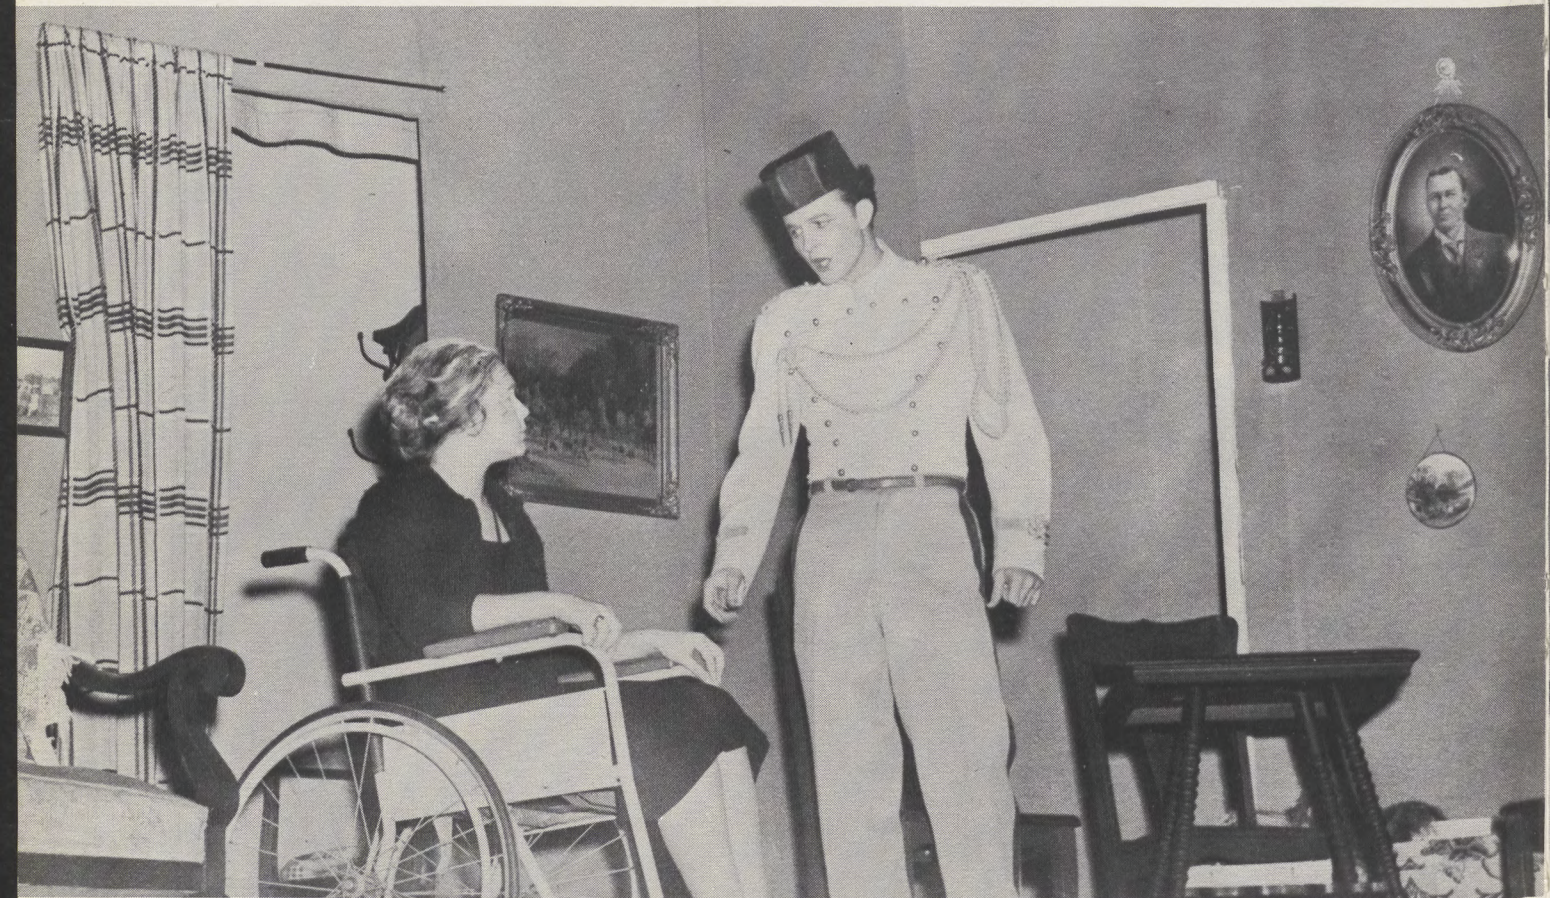

Everyone enjoys the victory dance after the Pearl River game.

Oh come, come. You're being a little hard on the ole countenance.

I'd make it right with her, but I haven't a penny.

Coach, I haven't been feeling too good lately.

What are you looking for boys?

Maxine hasn't ever been known to twist.

Is it the photographer that's interesting?

Where there's food, you'll find Diane.

Cheese

Practice tends to make perfect.

How do you get this thing on?

Clay!! What are you doing up here???

Going to Summit?

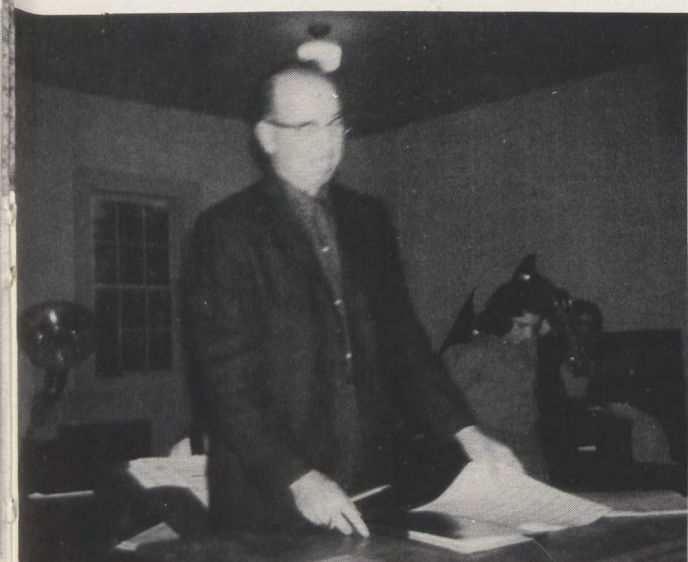

Oh Yes, I always clean the Boy's Dorm.

Students waiting for a physical.

Go, Bears, Go-oo!

Gee, It woudn't nothing.

Give me a bow and arrow.

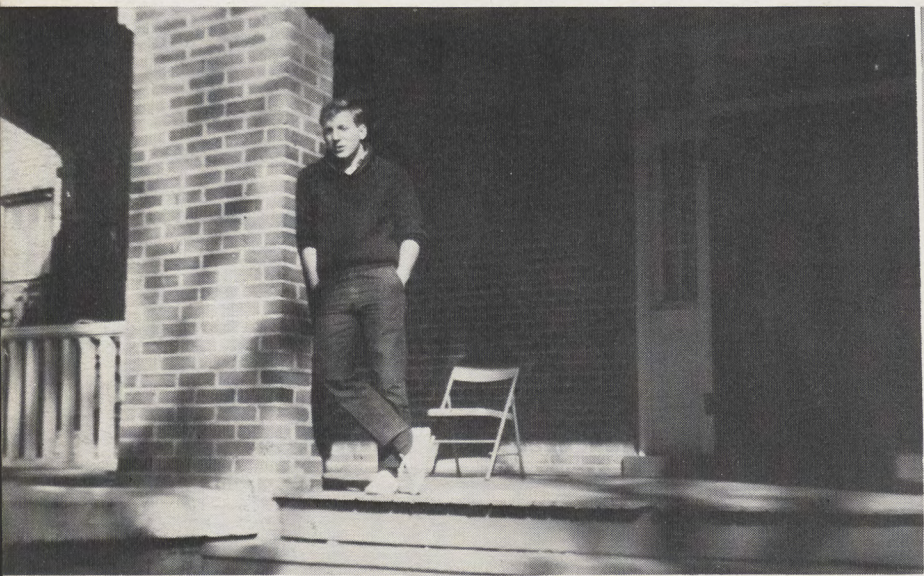

Work Crew??

Get lost. Can't you see we're trying to eat.

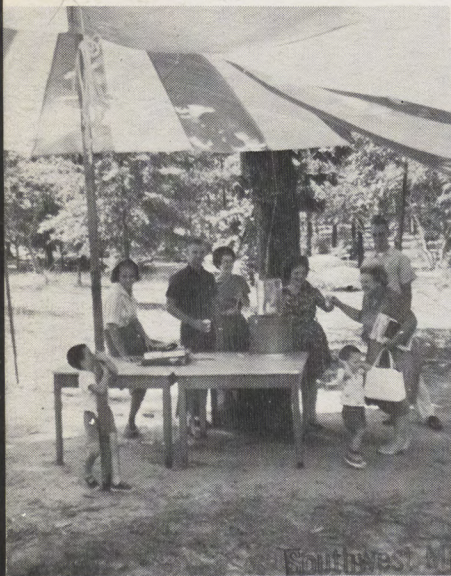

Mrs. Martin gets in on some of the latest gossip.

Hey Man!!!

You're on Candid Camera

"Just what I need after that Summit, Mississippi Literature Class."

No!!!

Annual staff parties can be fun.

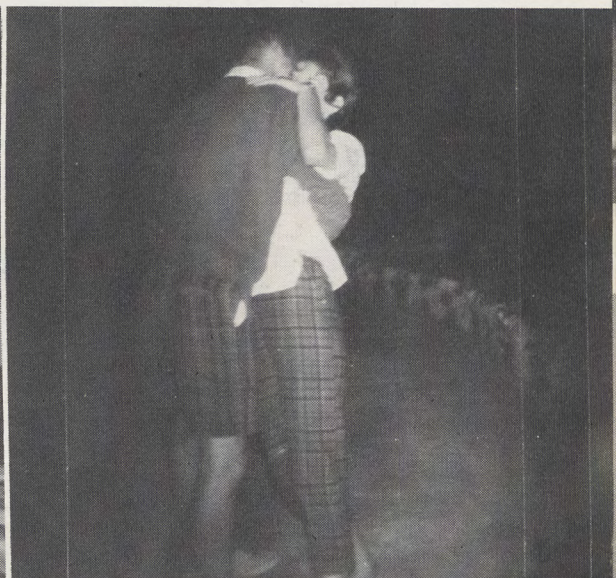

"Oh, well, 'Mother said there would' be days like this."

"Who are we trying to fool?"

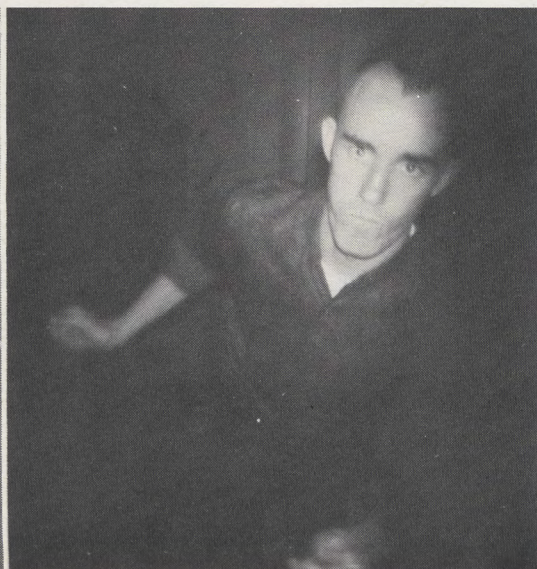

Love me, love my dog.

And this is called dancing?

S.M.J.C. girls on their afternoon in town.

Now look, Coach, I've had just about enough!

Let's hustle boys.

The "Get Acquainted Dance" was very successful.

"Maxine, Baby!"

Get the rebound Bears.

Oh! It's cold!

Mrs. William Bailey and her co-hearts.

Now, Doyle, nothing is that bad.

Giving the ole lips a workout, eh?

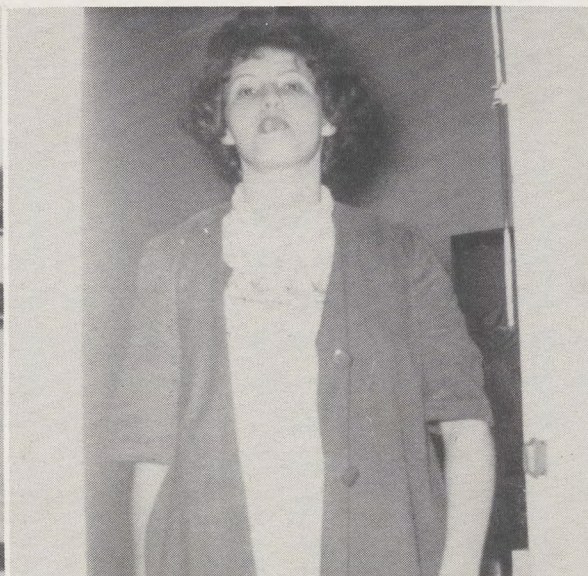

Hi there!

Going to the wrong dorm, girls.

Don't be ugly, Barbara!
